

WOMAN PILOT JOINS KAISER'S AERIAL FLEET

Elfriede Riote.

Fraulein Elfriede Riote, the only woman in Germany who holds a pilot's license granted by that government, has offered her services to the emperor. She is famous for having designed a number of successful safety devices for dirigibles.

The earning capacity of a woman determines her right to a vote in Norway.

In Russia bricks made of coal dust are used for paving. The coal is combined with treacle and resin.
